

Prevention

The Canadian Cancer Society is committed to reducing the risk of developing cancer. Programs in cancer prevention and healthy living are offered to the community at large.

- Tobacco Control
- Nutrition
- Sun Safety
- Physical Activity
- Early Detection and Screening
- Information and Awareness

Advocacy

The Canadian Cancer Society advocates for healthy public policy which will improve the quality of life for those living with cancer and reduce an individual's risk of developing cancer; we also advocate for healthy lifestyles and strategies for reducing cancer risks for all individuals.

Research

The Canadian Cancer Society Research Institute funds the most promising cancer research, through its world-renowned peer review process, as well as offering programs that help train, develop and support the next generation of cancer researchers.
